THE PURITY OF MATERIAL FOR A NATURAL, DISCREET AMBIENCE

THE PURITY OF MATERIAL. FOR A NATURAL, DISCREET AMBIENCE

The collection takes its inspiration from the chianche and chiancarelle, limestone slabs from the Apulia region with a fairly even composition, easy to work with.

The difference between the two is the thickness: the chiancarelle are finer, while the chianche are typical of the rural constructions in the area. The surface teams material purity with authentic appeal, shaping a discreet, natural mood suitable for indoor and outdoor spaces. The colours in the collection remain faithful to the stone it is inspired by: extremely versatile, hard-wearing and impermeable, it has been reproduced by Fioranese in both a 10mm and a 20mm thickness, for use both indoors and outdoors. For a particularly faithful tribute to the original stone, we have introduced the SILK version in the 60.4x90.6 size, which recreates the surface slightly smoothed by tread and the passing of time. The 20mm version has a complex development that allows for the outdoor use typical of the original stone: the Module (in a single box) can be used for highly exclusive, striking laying options, typical of the local Apulia tradition, while the large 60.4x90.6 size has an attractive shaped edge. Simple style, linear shapes and a mix of sizes and surfaces bring this collection to life, creating a smooth, authentic overall effect that transmits all the natural desire for purity and rigour of those who choose it. With its versatile, sophisticated shades, Pietraviva is able to bring an exclusive allure to any type of setting, thanks to the discreet texture typical of the original stone and the luminous appeal of the ceramic material.
